Two Extremes Croquet And Boxing

George Peterson left for the mainland on the China yesterday. A number of sports gathered around to wish Pete "bon voyage," and to assure him that he had quite re-instated himself in the graces of the Honolulu public.

Peterson was a victim of somebody's blunder; he is not in Sullivan's class, and should not have been brought all the way from Frisco to fight Dick. Maybe Pete's praises were sung too loudly in little old Frisco, and he was thought to be a fit and proper person to meet Honolulu's idol in the squared circle. However, Peterson proved wanting in fistic skill, as compared with Sullivan, and went down in defeat twice. But one thing can be said about Peterson, and that is, that he fought a game fight in his second attempt to wrest the championship honors from Sullivan.

The first scrap had an unfortunate ending, and although the foul was unintentional most people, like the cat, thought a lot, but said nothing. It is to be hoped that if a boxer be brought from the coast in the future to fight any local man, a proper opinion be obtained as to his ability as a fighter, and not so much credence given to hearsay.

Joe Cohen's new scheme of having scraps between local men on Saturday evenings seems good. There are plenty of good men around the city at present, and some very interesting matches should be brought off.

With all the soldiers on Oahu now, and most of them spilling for a scrap, some fine free willing fights will surely be pulled off soon. Of course the boxing will be crude in most cases, but that will be made up for by the dash and vim that the amateurs will put into their work. It is a treat to watch a man like Sullivan box, because he is a pastmaster at the game, but when he is only up against a dub, it is too one-sided to be pleasant.

Men like Ironman Mac, Bird, Sharkey, Nelson, Terry, Hines, Young Scotty, McFadden and, last but not least, "Sailor" Morch, are all capable of putting up a gory go. And human nature has not changed much since the old gladiator scrap days; it is the bleed, gore, blood, that stirs the savage in a man. After all it is only a thin veneer of civilization that covers our old ancestral instincts of smashing the other fellow, whether the cause be a prize fight or a game of croquet—which is about the biggest extreme that could be mentioned.

Talking about croquet reminds the writer that the ancient game, which was played for a while out at the Zoo, a few years ago, has been revived by a bunch of enthusiasts who play regularly every Sunday and holiday out at Kapiolani Park. Croquet was all the rage at one time; that was before tennis took such a hold on the public.

Still croquet is not a bad game at all, and many people with a strip of lawn might do worse than invest in a few mallets and balls.

Combined Team Cambrians And Floras

The cricket match tomorrow bids fair to be a record-breaking event. The officers of the Flora have contributed five of their men to the team; this number of players, together with the six from the Cambrian, makes up the full eleven. And a very good team it appears to be too. Generally speaking, the weak point in a ship's cricket team is the lack of bowlers. The reason is that whenever the ship gets into port, and the men go ashore for a practice, everybody is willing, in fact anxious, to have a try with the bat, but not absolutely dying with impatience to bowl. Consequently the team becomes strong in the batting department and falls away in the bowling line.

However, the naval men have at least two good bowlers who may be relied upon to "shiver the timbers" of the land-lubbers.

Mr. Spaulding is reported to be a demon with the ball. He is very fast, and has a good offbreak which he uses with a medium paced ball. Once he gets his proper length, the local Trumplers & Co. will have to watch every ball carefully. The match will start about 11:30, and lunch and afternoon tea will be dispensed by the wives, sisters and sweethearts of the local men. The only thing needed to make the match a success is fine weather, and that seems assured as a big kahuna has been subsidized.

Hawaii Loses First Class Pitcher

Dick Reuter, the well known local pitcher, sailed on the China yesterday, en route for the Coast. Reuter has been signed to play for the Pueblo baseball team, and should make good if the cold weather does not interfere with his form.

A large crowd of baseball players turned up at the dock to see Reuter off, and lots were much in evidence. Dick seemed to feel his parting with Honolulu a lot, and no doubt will miss the warm weather, and think kindly of even the awful sample of "liquid" with-out the "sunshine" that has passed for weather lately.

Reuter is a heady pitcher, and will make the Puebloites sit up and take notice when he starts putting them across the plate. He has pitched some great ball in Honolulu, and made a good impression on the members of the All-Stars whilst they were in Honolulu. It will be interesting to see how Reuter makes out on the mainland, as compared with Barney Joy's venture into big ball some time ago.

"If I Can Get Fit Sure I'll Fight Johnson!"

J. J. Jeffries, ex-world's champion boxer, was interviewed in Chicago lately, and judging from the trend of his remarks, it only seems a matter of time till a match is made between "Daddy" Johnson and the big fellow.

Jeff weighs 245 pounds at present, and is rapidly reducing his weight. He is reported to have said that he was very pleased with the way he was getting into condition. The first definite statement from Jeff, according to a Chicago report, is that the boiler-maker will fight "Dearie" if all goes well with Jeff's training. "If I find that I can get really fit, I'll get back into the ring and tackle Arthur," Jeff is quoted to have said. "But the match will not come off for a year or so, as I have vaudeville engagements for a long time to come. It all depends on my being able to get fit and well." Wow! Is not that great news? Fight? Sure they will, and what kind of a scrap will it be too? Get fit! Well that is the trouble, can the big fellow get back his old form? He may, and he may not, but one thing is certain and that is the white and the black will mix it sooner or later in the ring and "Little Arth" will sure have a tougher contract with the 220 pound Jeff than he did with wee Tommy Burns.

The next thing we probably will hear is that the match is made. Where will it be fought? All sorts of wild-cat offers have been made by small villages which want to be put on the map, but up-to-date the best offer has come from Australia. The "cooves" down under have offered Jeff $50,000, win, lose or draw, and it is hard to see where a large genuine offer is coming from.

Jeff's statement is the best bit of news that the fight fans have heard for years.

Visitors Play Golf At Club

Notwithstanding the bad weather during the past ten days or so, the Cambrian officers have managed to have a few games of golf. On Sunday last a few of the naval men visited the Country Club, and although it rained somewhat, enjoyed a few rounds of the links. The Country Club is looking very well just now and the visitors thought the scene, although somewhat damp, very pretty. The tennis court was in good condition considering the rainy weather, and it is intended to bring off a big tournament in the near future.

On Friday the Cambrian bunch visited Moanauia, and were delighted with the place. Many comments on Mr. Damon's liberality were passed, and all united in saying that they wished there were more men scattered over the world like he is, for then beauty spots would abound in every port of call. Now that the rain has stopped a little, the outlook for the officers having a good time appears bright. They have taken in the dances at the Moana hotel, and have enjoyed themselves very much. All anxiety as to the style of two-step danced in Honolulu has been allayed, and the gallant young officers, busy at present at the dirty work of coaling, may be heard humming, under their breaths, snatches of "Arawana," and other favorite feck-ticklers.

Polo Is Going To Boom On Oahu

Walter Dillingham, who is away on the Coast at present, may bring down some polo ponies with him. So the rumors around town go, and it seems very feasible on the face of it too. Polo is going to be a great favorite sport on Oahu in the near future, and now that the Lellehu officers have their small steeds out at the cantonment, and are getting them fit for the game, things look bright in the polo line.

Maul is also stirring himself and will be heard from very soon. Kaul is never backward, and even Hawaii is thinking of taking a hand at the popular sport. Hilo and district should be able to turn out some good men and ponies; all that is wanted is some one to stir the plantation men up and they will do the rest.

Nothing definite has been settled about the opening polo game of the season, but no doubt when Mr. Dillingham returns, things will begin to hum. Frank Baldwin, of Punene, good all round sportsman that he is, always is willing to lend a helping hand, and may be relied upon to do his best to get the Maul team into shape for a match against the army cracks. Let us hope it will be soon, the sooner the better too.
